

HUMAN

NATURE

Art 295 Virtual Exhibition

Curated By: Amanda Taylor

The title “Human Nature”, refers to the traits that connect us to each other. Within each of the selected pieces, humanity is depicted in various ways, each one unique to the artist's mind and perspective. Given the current climate of the world, these brilliant works of art reflect and connect us to our core values. The way we interact with one another, how we function within friendships, desires and stigmas that we hold to each other— these are all things that we as a collective group have experienced in one way or another.
